

Attention Attendees!

Online Social Networking! • Event Communication! • Blogging!

To encourage person-to-person comments, questions, communication and social networking at the ISMRM 17th Scientific Meeting & Exhibition, we are now utilizing Jot Event Messaging Systems™.

How it works

Electronic Multimedia Posters

Use this software directly from the Electronic Poster computers located in the Exhibit Hall! Your opportunity to discuss e-posters with the author and others from the poster hall and on line during the meeting and for three months afterwards. When viewing or after searching for an e-poster, you will see the following on the abstract information page:

Discussion

To join the discussion board for this poster Click Here. When you click the link, you will be taken directly to the blogging forum relating to the e-poster you are viewing. As an attendee of the meeting, you are automatically subscribed to these forums!

Please feel free to post questions, or leave comments (please remember that you will be identified as the person leaving the comments) for the author of a particular e-poster.

ELECTRONIC POSTER COMPUTERS LOCATED IN THE EXHIBIT HALL MAY ONLY BE USED FOR POSTING COMMENTS/QUESTIONS ABOUT THE ELECTRONIC POSTERS.

Additional Blogging Forums

We will also be offering forums for the traditional posters and oral presentations. This service is ONLY available directly from the web!! These forums should be accessed ONLY from your own web-enabled phone, laptop or personal computer!

More Services

Not Available on the Electronic Poster Computers

Use your own web-enabled mobile phones, laptops, or any personal computer as your personal messaging station with full search and messaging capability!

• Virtual Messaging Station

Simply visit:

<https://www.online-reg.com/Jot/flex/apps/JotPortal.php>

Follow the prompts to login with the email address you provided during registration. No additional registration to the site is required.

• Interact with Poster Authors

You now have the opportunity to give your feedback to the author of the electronic poster, traditional poster, or oral presentation. Take advantage of the new communication opportunity to participate in the research results of significant topics.

• Search for an Attendee

Click "Search and Send" and enter the First Name, Last Name, Organization, Session Name, Poster, Program Number, or Country of the registered attendee you would like to send a message to and click "search." Use only one or two fields for the most successful search.

• Send a Message

Select your recipient from the search results, create and send your message. For privacy, their email address will not be displayed.

• Retrieve Your Messages

Retrieve and reply to event email messages from your web-enabled mobile phones, laptops, or wherever you usually get your email messages from the email address provided at ISMRM registration.
