The MRI Technologist is responsible for performing diagnostic magnetic resonance imaging procedures on patients as ordered by a physician to assist in the diagnosis and treatment of patients. Essential duties:

- Provides for patient physical and emotional needs in a wide variety of circumstances.
- Performs magnetic resonance exams per established protocols.
- Screens all patients and family members entering the Imaging Center per established protocols.
- Reports changes in the patients to appropriate personnel for follow-up.
- Transports patients as needed for all sections of the Radiology Department.
- Provides all customers with information pertinent to their exams.
- Completes examinations by documenting all appropriate procedural information.
- Performs/documents QA and QC per section protocol.
- Performs all duties necessary to ensure the harmonious operation of the MRI section.
- Administers contrast media per established medication review protocols.
- May perform moderate or waived point of care testing per CLIA guidelines.
- Demonstrates standards of performance (ownership, teamwork, communication, compassion) that support patient satisfaction and principles of service excellence.

Qualifications:

- High school diploma or equivalent
- Completion of a two-year degree in an approved Radiology program or work experience recommended by the approved licensing agency
- Registered by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists, CNMT or ARDMS
- American Heart Association HS (Heart Saver). CPR Certification required
- Previous MRI experience preferred

Wilmington, NC is a growing coastal community of around 100,000 people in Southeastern North Carolina. Enjoy living and working where most people vacation. Year-round boating, golf, fishing, tennis, and biking are available. We have a vibrant, historical downtown with excellent restaurants and an active cultural arts community.

New Hanover Regional Medical Center offers a benefits package designed to ensure access to quality healthcare and help you maintain a healthy lifestyle.

- Teaching hospital, regional referral center, and Level II Trauma Center
Southeastern North Carolina’s largest employer with more than 6,600 employees

Join Our Talented Team Today! Apply: www.nhrmc.org/careers

EOE - NHRMC is committed to inclusion and diversity