Train Station

It is very convenient to use the Frankfurt Flughafen station which is the largest airport train station in Germany . The airport currently has two main train terminals connected by corridors: the Long Distance Railway Station ("Fernbahnhof" , abbreviated: "Fernbf") hosts long distance trains. Be carful not to go to the Regional Bahnhof  (which is close by).

Location: The long-distance train station is linked via a connector building to Terminal 1 (you won't even notice that  you will cross the highway A3), platforms 4 to 7 . The railway station is linked to Terminal 2 via buses and the Sky Line.

From here, the high-speed ICE trains depart to Montabaur (direction to Cologne).
