- Yorkville and Forest Hill, where the elite live and shop.
- Drive along to one of Toronto’s original streets, Spadina Road. Now known as the Fashion “rag trade” District, this area is home to many clothing discount stores.
- Visit North America’s second largest Chinatown that is continuing to grow and expand at a rapid pace.

The Vaudeville era not only provided audiences with memorable performances, but it left a legacy of a breathtakingly beautiful theatre complex. Today's program will take your guests on an exciting journey back to the opulence of the 1920’s as you visit two of Toronto’s magnificently restored vaudeville houses ... the Elgin Theatre & Winter Garden Theatres. Designed by the world-renowned Scottish born architect Thomas Lamb, these theatres once featured famous vaudeville and silent movie entertainers including Mary Pickford and even Archie Leach - also known as Cary Grant! Almost lost to the fast paced growth of Toronto, these monuments to the Vaudeville era have been painstakingly restored to their original splendour. The historic Elgin & Winter Garden Theatres is the last operating double-decker theatre complex in the world, containing two separate Edwardian theatres. The elegant Elgin Theatre is located on the street level but the true treasure is the rooftop Winter Garden located immediately above. As the doors open to the Winter Garden, visitors feel as if they have stepped into a secret fantasy garden as they view the magnificent hand painted walls of trailing vines and flowers and breathtaking decor. After the doors closed in 1928, this hidden jewel remained forgotten until it was purchased and its restoration began in 1987.

Upon arrival, the group will be taken on a guided tour of the restored theatres beginning with the Elgin Theatre followed by the Winter Garden Theatre.

Following the tour of theatres, participants will experience a delicious King’s Afternoon Tea at the Omni King Edward Hotel. The Omni King Edward Hotel has hosted visitors for over a century, and to this day remains a hallmark of luxury and comfort. With its rich history and old world’s charm, sprinkled with modern amenities and elegant décor, this hotel pays homage to a proud history as the city’s first luxury hotel. With William Shakespeare as its foundation, the Stratford Festival aims to set the standard for classical theatre in North America. Embracing our heritage of tradition and innovation, we seek to bring classical and contemporary theatre alive for an increasingly diverse audience.

For more than half a century, our mission has evolved to address the ever-changing, ever-challenging Canadian cultural landscape. What has remained constant, however, is our determination to create stimulating, thought-provoking productions of Shakespeare’s plays, to examine other plays from the classical repertoire, and to foster and support the development of Canadian theatre practitioners.

By searching Canada and the world for the finest talent, and by providing the conditions and training that enable those artists to achieve their most courageous work, we will immerse our audiences in a theatregoing experience that is not only innovative, entertaining and unsurpassed anywhere in the world, but also deeply relevant to, and reflective of, their lives and communities.

This afternoon's/evening's performance will be the ever popular Sound of Music in the stunning Festival Theatre. The Festival Theatre began in 1953 as a tent standing over a wooden thrust stage which was surrounded on three sides by the audience. Having gone through a number of changes, the central and still the most important feature of the Stratford Festival is the Festival Theatre, and at the heart of that theatre is the remarkable thrust stage still known to artists and staff simply as the “Festival stage.” More than anything else, it is that stage that has given the Festival its unique and enduring character.

It remains the place to go if you have only one meal to eat in Stratford and want it to be a spectacular experience. - Opening its' doors as a restaurant in 1975, the Revival House Stratford (previously the Revival House Stratford) has been a tradition in dining ever since. The philosophy of this establishment is quite clear; treat each ingredient with respect, treat each guest with sincerity, understand the vision and execute flawlessly.

The dedication to local and organic produce is an important focus of The Revival House Stratford. Quality is not negotiable.

In fact, should a fantastic ingredient present itself without notice, the kitchen is devoted to optimizing the opportunity while spontaneously indulging in a new addition to the menu!

Per person price of tour includes: Transportation, full commentary, ticket to The Sound of Music, lunch, tour guide and all taxes.................................................................$290.00 Canadian
