Research Associate - Penn Image Computing & Science Lab

The Department of Radiology at the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania seeks candidates for a Research Associate position in the Academic Support Staff. This appointment will be initially for one (1) year and continuation during that time period and renewal are based on satisfactory performance and availability of funding (limited to three (3) years). Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree.

Responsibilities may include working independently and as part of collaborative research groups on basic science research projects to elucidate the etiology of brain disorders and to develop and implement novel analysis methods, processing pipelines, and visualization strategies for complex data.

The successful applicant will have an opportunity to develop independence in research through writing grants and peer-reviewed publications and through supervision of laboratory technicians and trainees at all levels in an academic setting.

We seek candidates who embrace and reflect diversity in the broadest sense. The University of Pennsylvania is an EOE. Minorities/women/individuals with disabilities/protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds.
