An MR Physicist position is offered for the MR Platform of Columbia University’s Zuckerman Mind Brain Behavior Institute in the City of New York. This is a full-time position for a PhD level physicist or engineer with a background and interests in working with teams of scientists and MRI specialists, veterinarians and review boards to assure safe and effective MRI-based research. The MR Physicist will support mind, brain and behavior researchers by working with them to design, program and implement data acquisition protocols, and to acquire, curate, analyze and interpret their experimental results. Training scientists new to MRI in pulse sequences, MR physics and data interpretation is also an important role of this position. Competitive salary is commensurate with experience. Please contact Kathleen Durkin at kd2649@columbia.edu with any questions, and for possible in-person meeting arrangements with the Director at the ISMRM this year in London.
