

The Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging at the University of California, San Francisco is seeking a faculty member with expertise in breast imaging research for the newly endowed Edward A. Sickles Distinguished Professorship in Radiology. Funds will be available to support the research activities of the holder of the Distinguished Professorship related to their work in breast imaging. The selected candidate should demonstrate a commitment to building a strong academic career, excellence and advancement in education, research and creative activities. Faculty are required to provide outstanding teaching to residents, fellows, medical students, and master's students. The selected candidate will be appointed at the level of Associate or Full Professor in the In Residence, Clinical X, HS Clinical, or Adjunct series.

Eligibility:

- MD PhD degree (or equivalent), or MD (or equivalent) with ability to practice clinical Radiology in California.
- Associate Professor rank or above in any academic series.
- Must be a recognized leader in radiology research with expertise in breast imaging.

Application Requirement:

- Cover Letter (please include a brief description of prior teaching and research experience.)
- Current CV
- Statement of Vision (not to exceed 2 pages, including figures)
- Statement of Contributions to Diversity

Please apply online at <https://apptrkr.com/4985074>. Applicant materials must list current and/or pending qualifications upon submission. The selected candidate must meet all of the qualifications at the time of appointment.

The UCSF Department of Radiology & Biomedical Imaging offers faculty salaries that are highly competitive with the national radiology benchmarks. The University of California provides employees with a comprehensive health and retirement benefit packages, in addition to many other benefits. For more information, please visit: <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/compensation-and-benefits/index.html>

The posted UC salary scales set the minimum pay determined by rank and step at appointment. See Table 5). The minimum base salary range for this position is $150,300-$377,200. This position includes membership in the health sciences compensation plan) which provides for eligibility for additional compensation.

The Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging at University of California, San Francisco seeks candidates whose experience, teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and excellence within our department and the community we serve. We aim to build and develop a broad group of faculty, trainee and staff community with diverse backgrounds with a common desire to serve culturally diverse and underserved populations.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.