Discourse

31 23d

Welcome! As a new user of Discourse, we hope you will find this site intuitive and clearly structured, but here is some guidance to get you started:

Basic Terms Used by Discourse (Nomenclature)

Here are some very basic terms that will be helpful to keep in mind as you use Discourse or read this guide:

- Topic: The collection of messages grouped together in a meaningful conversation, with a title, listed in a category, beginning with an Original Post, and including all replies in chronological order.

Elsewhere this might be called a 'thread' but Discourse uses 'topic' since thread is used for linked elements that can go off in many different directions (and be confused with programming terms).

- Post: Each element of a topic is referred to as a post. Each post has its own author and can be moved to a different topic if necessary, or even become the start of a new topic.

We hope you enjoy using the ISMRT Social Hub and interacting with fellow ISMRT members.

Please remember that this platform is for ISMRT Members only.

If you have any questions or experience any difficulties accessing the Social Hub, please contact us via email or phone and we will be happy to assist.
